CHANGES TO THE SYLLABUS

The syllabus is an implied contract between the instructor and the student. Consequently, it will not change in any significant way over the duration of the course. However, there are times when minor modifications need to be made. This being the case, the instructor will do everything in her power to keep changes to a minimum. If and when there are changes, students will be advised by email.

LATE WORK

No unexcused late work will be graded after the due date. Likewise there are no unexcused make-ups for lecture exercises.

Course Overview

Course Duration

16 weeks (Fall 2018)

Course Description

A city is like a world that we inherit from the many generations that came before us. We must act with great attention and enormous respect to what has come from history. What is the future of human inhabiting?

The Image of Rome, a cross-disciplinary joint venture among ASU The Design School and ASU the School of Film, Dance and Theatre, is a comparative cultural study examination of the city of Rome and its intercultural understanding through consistent analysis of its specific past events and persons who built it, and of its change over time.

It is devoted primarily to explain history of architecture of Rome from VIII century BC to 1960, from the point of view of the image of the city, both the built and the visual/oral one, produced by specific political powers during 27 centuries, while considering questions of human existence and meaning, aesthetic experience, art and design. The series of lessons explain in a cross-disciplinary way the roman environmental and historical development as a sequence of events influenced by a variety of factors through a systematic examination of political institutions as they change over time and their relationship among ideas, and artifacts built from the Ancient Rome of Emperors (VIII Bc - V Ad), to the Old Rome of Popes (V Ad - XIX Ad) and to the New Rome of the King (XIX-XX).

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will appreciate history as an improvement for society and the environment while acquire valuable experience in cross-disciplinary process that concerns the interpretation and analysis of a various range of formats (written, aural or visual): ancient texts of latin poets, old and modern texts, sculptures, landscape tradition and romantic paintings of Rome, maps, architecture, movies and contemporary clips of Rome. The course contributes to the development of the critical thinking by reinforcing critical skills in reading, writing, listening.

Historic Awareness: Students will develop historical awareness and intercultural understanding as a valuable aid in the analysis of present-day problems because historical past has created modern life. Observing the example of the integrated city of Rome as an integrated city, students will understand the value of precedent as a sustainable principle in the creation of the contemporary world. Students will be able to name main architectural periods of Rome in relation to 3 different political powers, their culture, art, situations, and environments: the will identify "history" as a sequence of events. They will learn to identify the presence of history in the built environment of contemporary cities.

Humanities: The study of history through observation of past and present images, accomplishments of artists, designers, and their traditions will help form the student's ability to perceive aesthetic qualities of artwork and design of other contemporary cities. The study of history through images of the city (the physical one built by political power and then virtual one produced by travelers) is a way to produce an online "experience of the city" by showing the links existing in between the real city and its visual alter ego produced by travelers' experiences of it. Through the study of a textual (literature), historic and artistic/ architectural culture (aesthetics) of a diverse culture and traditions as the one of the Roman world, students will recognize the city as a world that we inherit from the many generations the have preceded us and therefore, as collective artwork. After the exposition to perspectives on art, students will recognize (1) aesthetic experience and creative process in arts and design, (2) identify aesthetic systems and values in visuals and built environment, and (3) understand the values and elements of roman culture in relationship to America's cultural system: they will recognize how contemporary media (virtual images) influence the experience of built space (physical image) of a place.

Global Awareness: Students will learn how human organizations have evolved from the village to modern global interdependence. The comparative cultural study examination can show the cultural significance of the roman global issue and its effects on other cultures.

Technical Requirements & Support

- You will need a standard laptop or desktop computer to access your classes. A mobile device, tablet or netbook will not provide the access and functionality necessary for ASU Online courses. A webcam and headset (with microphone) may be required for some classes.
- High-speed internet is needed as most ASU Online courses use multimedia tools that are best viewed with high-speed internet, so having the proper connection is essential.
- You should have at least two browsers on your computer. Any browser will work, though preferred browsers are Chrome and Firefox, which can be downloaded for free online.
- In general, course access and assignments do not require special software, however, certain degrees may require specific software programs (your instructors will notify you if this is the case).

- ASU students have access to Google Drive (My Drive via MyASU), where you can create and share Google documents, presentations, spreadsheets and more. You will also have access to additional software provided at no cost through My Apps at MyASU.
- Be sure to take time to explore MyASU . This will be critical to your success as a student.

Technical Support

Please do not contact your instructor with technical questions. Herberger Online handles all technical questions and issues that may arise in this course.

Please contact the support team immediately if you encounter technical issues while completing an assignment and you are unable to resolve the problem and reset your work.

The Herberger Online support team is available to assist you 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. You may reach them anytime at:

- holsupport@asu.edu
- 1-888-298-4117
- 480-965-3057 (International)

When contacting support, please provide:

- The full name of this course (ABC 123: Long Name)

- The title(s) of any assignment(s) you're having trouble with
- A brief description of the problem
- Detailed, step-by-step instructions to reproduce the problem

Herberger Online investigates all claims of technical issues with the course website. Students and the instructor must abide by their decisions in this area. Herberger Online makes no decisions regarding course content, and the instructor makes no decisions regarding technical issues.

General Conditions: As stated above, access to a suitable computer and adequate computer skills are critical for your success in this hybrid course. Consequently, the instructor will not consider computer-related excuses for the failure to meet course requirements. Excuses such as technical incompatibility, inadequate access to the Internet, a computer crash, an anti-virus application/firewall blocking course access, or any other similar reasons will not be accepted. Neither will inadequate computer skills be considered as a valid excuse for not successfully completing the course.

NOTE: You are strongly advised not to enroll in this course if computer access is an issue.

Online Activity Logs: All visits to the course website are logged by the Herberger Online servers, and those logs are regularly reviewed by Herberger Online during the course of normal business. These logs contain all requests you make while visiting the site: every image, video, web page, etc. Each request is logged with the time, down to the second, when it was made.

If you contact me, or Herberger Online, about a technical issue, these logs will be reviewed as part of that process. That means that it is easy for me to find out when you visited (or did not visit) the site, and what you did when you were there. Please do not waste your time, or mine, with claims of having logged in when you really didn't, or of having submitted work that you know you did not submit.

Course Assessments

COURSE ASSESSMENTS – Points in this course are earned from 3 sources: 15 assessments (essay, writing assignment, photograph, and movie clip), and 6 Unit assessments (essay, and movie clips).

ESSAYS, WRITING ASSIGNMENTS – Students will write Essays (2 – 3 pages) and Writing Assignments (1 page) throughout the course uploaded to the APH 494 website. Be sure to read any text associated with the assignment, which gives background information and context. You will be responsible for knowing this text.

MOVIE CLIPS – Students will make 3 short movie clips throughout the course, uploaded to the APH 494 website. Intellectual learning of lessons, gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of the assigned readings up to that point in the course inform each short clips' content. Be sure to read any text associated with the assignment, which gives background information and context. You will be responsible for knowing this text.

PHOTOGRAPHS – Students will make 7 photographic assignments throughout the course uploaded to the APH 494 website. Intellectual learning of lessons, gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of the assigned readings up to that point in the course inform each photographic assignment content. Be sure to read any text associated with the assignment, which gives background information and context. You will be responsible for knowing this text.

DISCUSSION QUESTION RESPONSES – The discussion board is available for students to ask questions, share resources or converse with one another about the course or related content. This is an open forum. Discussions are not graded and have no point value. They are highly encouraged as they provide an additional perspective to the course content. The instructor will frequent the discussion board, however if you have questions that you need answered by the instructor, please email your instructor directly.

SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS – After submitting an assignment, you will receive a confirmation number. It is highly recommended that you print, write down, or otherwise save the confirmation information. Should there be a problem with submission, this information will help the Herberger Online Learning staff track down and identify your work. Without the confirmation number, there is no proof of completion. Should you not receive a confirmation number or if you feel that something went wrong with your submission, it is critical that you contact Herberger Online Learning technical support immediately, not the instructor. Technical support can be found under the Help tab. Herberger Online Learning is not responsible for missed deadlines if you wait to contact them regarding problems. Only Herberger Online Learning staff may help resolve technical issues (NOTE: Do not expect an immediate response if you email them on the weekend!). However, feel free to copy me on any correspondence you have with Herberger Online Learning. It is important when creating new works that you operate within the guidelines and requirements of federal copyright law. Using someone else's creative work without permission or a license is a form of plagiarism and this will impact your grade if your instructor feels you have used another's creative work beyond what is reasonable under Fair Use. There are many Creative Commons and Public Domain materials available on the internet and you are encouraged to use these materials or, even better, create your own!

DEADLINES – Students who complete assignments before the day the assignment is due rarely, if ever, have difficulty submitting their assignment. The biggest mistake students make is waiting until the last minute to submit work. Online courses are great for their convenience, but you are at the mercy of your computer, your Internet service provider, and life's interruptions. Neither the Herberger Online Learning staff nor the instructor can help if you miss a deadline as a result of your computer, technical, and/or personal problems. You are ultimately in charge of how well you do in this course, so please make a habit of completing assignments before the due date. All due dates follow Arizona time.

COURSE SCHEDULE

The Course Schedule can be found on the course website under the Schedule link. Refer to this regularly as a reminder to yourself.

Course Itinerary

The Course Format comprises a module with a double format of the lesson and Movie Clip analysis.

- A formal lesson on historical, sociological, cultural, architectonic and artistic aspects in Space and Time of Rome is combined with clips named "postcards" (Promenades Dans Rome) portraying alive scenarios and soundscapes of contemporary Rome, to give the historic still image of the city, an alive image, a contemporary vision that echoes old images produced over time.
- Movie clip analysis by Doctor Jason Scott will guide students through "iconic" films that used Rome as a setting, in order to reflect the image of Rome those movies built in the US: "La Dolce Vita," "Bicycle Thieves," "Rome Open City", "Three Coins in the Fountain," "Roman Holiday," and others.

Grading

Points in this course are earned from 3 sources: 15 assessments (Writing Assignments, Photographs, and movie clips), and 6 Unit exams (Essays, movie clips). All together they total 500 points (excluding extra credit). Below is the grading rubric for each assignment:

30% Complete responses, which cover all aspects of the assignment

55% Content:

- Thoughtfulness and thoroughness in addressing the topic, including references to the readings
- Integration of concepts covered in the readings
- Development of coherent and cohesive ideas
- Demonstration of creativity, synthesis of ideas, and insight in relation to the week's readings and previous materials covered during the semester

There is an automatic 10% reduction in word count that falls below the minimum indicated.

The point break down for assignments is as follows:

15 LESSON ASSIGNMENTS @ 15 points each: 225

5 UNIT EXAMS @ 45 points each: 225
1 FINAL UNIT ESSAY @ 50 points: 50
Total Points Possible = 500

GRADING SCALE

Students will be assessed via a point system based on the ASU plus/minus grading scale.

490-500points = A+

465-489points = A

450-464points = A-

440-449points = B+

415-439points = B

400-414points = B-

390-399points = C+

350-389points = C

300-349points = D

299 and below = E

TIME MANAGEMENT

Time management is a well-known problem for 87% of college students. Purchase a calendar and use it – put all our course deadlines and your study times on it today. Keep ahead of the deadlines by working on this class for one-hour every day (the rule of thumb is for each 3 credit course = 6 hours a week of homework), rather than waiting until the last minute to complete poor quizzes, weak interview videos, or the last-minute writing of unprepared discussion posts.

ASSESSMENT AND POINTS

The following criteria will be used to assess content for all assignments:

- Are all aspects of the assignment discussed?
- Has the topic been addressed with thoughtfulness and thoroughness?
- Does the assignment show development of coherent and cohesive ideas? - Has there been a demonstration of creativity and insight?

- Has interesting and diverse vocabulary been used?
- Does the assignment show a synthesis of ideas from previous readings and/or assignments?

Be aware that if it's apparent you have not considered the week's lesson in your response and/or have not retained information from earlier readings and lessons, your grade will be reduced.

To achieve an A+ in this course you need to respond to all the discussion questions on a weekly basis. There are NO opportunities for earning additional points. Further, all assignments must be completed by their respective due date or a failing grade will be issued for that assignment. No late submissions will be allowed for any of the assignments. Late work will not be accepted for the discussion questions or essays unless the student has a verifiable medical emergency or other exceptional circumstance that has been acknowledged in writing by the instructor. Incomplete grades are not given for this online course.

GRADING DEFINITION (TDS Standard)

"A" Exceeds Expectations

Not only fulfills the objectives of the course syllabi and assignment statements, but extends them through new insights beyond the stated scope. These students demonstrate a high degree of professional dedication, rigor, open mindedness and resourcefulness. They have developed an ability to build upon feedback from a variety of sources, and to excel with an emerging independent "voice". Their work is rigorously thought through, well crafted, and clearly communicates.

“B” Fulfills Expectations

Meets the stated objectives of the course syllabi and assignment statements, while also elaborating on the stated issues through independent investigations that lead to developments in the work. These students demonstrate a medium degree of professional dedication, inquisitiveness, rigor and resourcefulness. They are developing an ability to build upon feedback from a variety of sources and are beginning to develop an independent “voice”. Their work is competently thought through, well crafted, and clearly communicates.

“C” Under-Achieves Expectations

Minimally meets the basic requirements of the course syllabi and assignment statements, without meeting the larger qualitative objectives. These students demonstrate a low degree of professional dedication, and require constant guidance. While demonstrating an understanding of the problem there are deficiencies in communication skills, time management, and in the breadth and depth of the student’s investigations. There is little evidence of an ability to develop an independent direction to the work. Although reasonably well crafted the work does not communicate effectively.

“D” Does Not Meet Most Expectations

Deficient work does not demonstrate many of the basic requirements and objectives of the course syllabi and assignment statements,. These students show one or more of the following: lack of professional dedication, lack of self-confidence, a closed-minded attitude, lack of time management skills, lack of communication skills, and/or distracting external personal problems. The work is often fragmentary, lacks synthesis, incomplete, and/or simply fulfilling an assignment. Deficient work is not acceptable and will result in the student having to retake the course.

A Exceeds expectations, A+ Well, A- Just

B Fulfills expectations, B+ Well, B- Just

C Under-achieves expectations, C+ Just, C- Significantly

D Does not meet most expectations

E/F Fails all expectations

I Incomplete - An incomplete gives you an extension of time to complete the required course work, it may be given with a medical excuse or family hardship.

Course Drop or Withdrawal

If you are unable to complete the course, it is your responsibility to arrange for withdrawal from the class. You will not be automatically withdrawn and unless you are officially withdrawn from the course you will receive a final grade based upon the total points you have earned for the semester. Students are required to pay all tuition and fees for any registered course unless enrollment is officially cancelled during the 100% refund period. Please visit the Academic Calendar to review the withdrawal deadlines for this semester. For more information on Drop/Add and Withdrawal visit: <https://students.asu.edu/drop-add>

Consistent with ASU policy, withdrawals will be handled as per the following guidelines: Withdrawal before the end of the fourth week: A “W” will be recorded Withdrawal after the end of the fourth week: A “W” will be recorded if you have a passing grade at the time of withdrawal. An “E” will be recorded if you have a failing grade at the time of withdrawal.

COURSE WITHDRAWAL DEADLINE

If you wish to withdraw from this course, it is your responsibility to do so by October 31, 2018 Course registration changes are processed through MyASU: <http://my.asu.edu>

Course Expectations

Online Course Expectations

IMPORTANT: This is an online course delivered entirely via the internet. You should proceed with this course only if you have previous computer and internet experience and you're willing and able to assume the added personal responsibility of completing an online course.

- It is your responsibility to ensure you have adequate computer resources and fast enough internet service to view course materials, use the required multimedia textbook and course pack, and complete all online activities, screenings, assignments, etc.
- If your computer or internet service malfunctions at any time during the semester, it is your responsibility to locate adequate resources elsewhere or to withdraw from the course.
- It is strongly recommended that you do not wait until the last minute to submit your assignments, just in case of internet service disruptions at your location or other technical problems. Requests for extensions due to computer or internet malfunctions may not be granted.
- If you have technical questions or difficulties with the course site, please do not contact the instructor; instead, contact the ASU Help Center.

Time Management

Online classes provide the flexibility of "attending" class at the time that is most convenient for you, but you should still plan a schedule for each class. Online courses are just as rigorous as in-person courses, so expect your coursework to be challenging but rewarding.

For 7.5 week sessions, you should plan for 18 hours of coursework per week for every 3 credits.

For 15 week sessions, you should plan for 9 hours of coursework per week for every 3 credits.

Attendance & Absence Policy

As an online course participant your attendance and absences are based on active participation in course discussion forums and timely submission of assignments. All due dates and times are in accordance with Arizona time.

Student Conduct Expectations

Students must abide by all the requirements stated in this syllabus. In addition, all students should be aware of their rights and responsibilities at Arizona State University. Please reference the college catalog and student handbook for student rights and responsibilities.

These can be found here: http://herbergerinstitute.asu.edu/students/undergrad/documents/student_handbook.p df

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Students are expected to adhere to the A SU Student Code of Conduct.

Besides academic performance, students should exhibit the qualities of honesty and integrity. Every student is expected to produce his/her original, independent work. Any student whose work indicates a violation of the ASU Academic Misconduct Policy including cheating, plagiarism, and dishonesty will be subject to disciplinary action.

Plagiarism is defined as deliberately passing off someone else's words or ideas as your own. All necessary and appropriate sanctions will be issued to all parties involved with plagiarizing any and all coursework.

Plagiarism and any other form of academic dishonesty that is in violation of the Student Code of Conduct will not be tolerated.

Arizona State University and the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts expect the highest standards of academic integrity from all students. Failure to meet these standards may result in suspension or expulsion from the university or other sanctions as specified in the University Student Academic Integrity Policy. For more information, please see the ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy: <http://provost.asu.edu/academicintegrity> .

Per ASU policy, a student may not avoid the consequences of academic dishonesty by withdrawing from a course and may be placed back in the course in order to face sanctions resulting from academic integrity violations. You are responsible for abiding by this policy.

In addition, ASU adheres to a university-wide Student Code of Conduct. The philosophy behind this policy states: The aim of education is the intellectual, personal, social, and ethical development of the individual. The educational process is ideally conducted in an environment that encourages reasoned discourse, intellectual honesty, openness to constructive change and respect for the rights of all individuals. Self-discipline and a respect for the rights of others in the university community are necessary for the fulfillment of such goals. The Student Code of Conduct is designed to promote this environment at each of the state universities.

The ASU student academic integrity policy lists violations in detail. These violations fall into five broad areas that include but are not limited to:

1. Cheating on an academic evaluation or assignment.
2. Plagiarizing.
3. Academic deceit, such as fabricating data or information.

4. Aiding academic integrity policy violations and inappropriately collaborating.
5. Falsifying academic records.

Student Conduct:

You are expected to treat your instructor and your fellow classmates with respect and kindness. In all correspondence and in Discussion Board postings, you should show respect for the viewpoints of others who may disagree with you or see things from a different perspective. Criticizing, ridiculing, insulting, or belittling others will not be accepted. Keep in mind that electronic communications do not have the advantage of nonverbal cues that are so much a part of interpersonal communication. Humor or satire can sometimes be misinterpreted in strictly electronic communication forums.

Online Activity Logs:

All course activity is logged by the Herberger Online servers, and those logs are regularly reviewed by Herberger Online during the course of normal business. These logs contain all requests you make while visiting the site: every image, video, web page, etc. Each request is logged with the time, down to the second, when it was made. If you contact your instructor, or Herberger Online, about a technical issue, these logs will be reviewed as part of that process.

Disruptive, Threatening or Violent Behavior

Threatening, violent, or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated in this class and will be handled in accordance with ASU policy. For more information please visit: <https://eoss.asu.edu/dos/srr/PoliciesAndProcedures> and <https://eoss.asu.edu/dos/safety/ThreateningBehavior> .

Title IX:

Title IX is a federal law that provides that no person be excluded on the basis of sex from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity. Both Title IX and university policy make clear that sexual violence and harassment based on sex is prohibited. An individual who believes they have been subjected to sexual violence or harassed on the basis of sex can seek support, including counseling and academic support, from the university. If you or someone you know has been harassed on the basis of sex or sexually assaulted, you can find information and resources at <http://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/faqs/students> .

Netiquette (Online Etiquette):

Netiquette, a social code that defines “good” online behavior is something to keep in mind during your online course interactions. Writing may be the only means of communication you have with classmates and instructors, so it is especially important to do this effectively. Follow the guidelines below to leave your mark as a knowledgeable, respectful and polite student who is also positioned to succeed professionally. Tips for appropriate netiquette can be found here, <https://asuonline.asu.edu/newsroom/online-learning-tips/netiquette-online-students>.

Student Services & Resources

You will find a list of student resources at: <https://tutoring.asu.edu/student-resources> Resources included are advisement, registration, financial aid, disability services, counseling, tutoring, library, and more.

Special Accommodations

Students with disabilities must have an equally effective and equivalent educational opportunity as those students without disabilities. Students experiencing difficulty accessing course materials because of a disability are expected to contact the course instructor so that a solution can be found that provides all students equal access to course materials and technology.

Your instructor is willing to make any reasonable adaptations for limitations due to any documented disability, including learning disabilities. Please contact the instructor during office hours or by appointment to discuss any special needs you may have. You must contact the Disability Resource Center to process the paperwork for special course accommodations. To request academic accommodations due to a disability, please contact the ASU Disability Resource Center (<http://www.asu.edu/studentaffairs/ed/drc/#> ; Phone: (480) 965-1234; TDD: (480) 965-9000). This is a very important step as accommodations may be difficult to make retroactively. If you have a letter from their office indicating that you have a disability which requires academic accommodations, in order to assure that you receive your accommodations in a timely manner, please present this documentation to me no later than the end of the first week of the semester so that your needs can be addressed effectively.

If you have a documented disability, including a learning disability, and would like to discuss possible accommodations, please contact the ASU Disabilities Resources and Services Office at 480-965-1234 or email DRC@asu.edu h <https://eoss.asu.edu/drc> . On the Tempe Campus: Matthews Center building, 1st floor.

The Writing Center

Students have access to Academic Support Programs including tutoring and the writing center. Information on these resources can be found here, <https://tutoring.asu.edu/>.

Counseling & Consultation

Students have access to Counseling & Consultation services. Information on this can be found here, <https://eoss.asu.edu/counseling> .

Health and Wellness

Students have access to Health and Wellness services. Information on this can be found here, <https://eoss.asu.edu/health> , <https://wellness.asu.edu/>

Academic Calendar and Important Dates

The academic calendar can be found here: <https://students.asu.edu/academic-calendar> Please make a note of these important dates during the fall 2018 semester, Session C: 16 weeks (Aug 16 – Nov 30). Please refer to the calendar schedule online for the due dates of your assignments. It is your responsibility not to schedule personal activities that conflict with the course schedule.
